30th Annual UMM Spiritual Rally

“Men to Men/Boys to Men”

Mentoring, Nurturing, Discipling for Christ

The UMM annual rally offers inspiration and direction to United Methodist Men’s Fellowships and individual participants as they seek God’s will for their common and individual lives to respond to that call in obedience. It is hoped the experience of this rally will encourage participants to work faithfully to make United Methodist Men an even stronger influence in United Methodism.

EVENT SPEAKERS

Kwasi Kena

Kwasi Kena is Director of Evangelism Ministry of the General Board of Discipleship, based in Nashville, Tennessee. Prior to his present position at GBOD, he served as the Field Services Director and General Editor at the General Commission on United Methodist Men.

Kena is an elder in the Greater New Jersey Annual Conference, where he served as the Congregational Development Coordinator.

A native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Kena has a diverse educational background. He has earned the following degrees: B.S. in Business Administration and Management, Bradley University; B.M. in Piano Performance, Wisconsin College Conservatory of Music; M.Div. Oral Roberts University; and D.Min. in Afrocentric Pastoring and Preaching, United Theological Seminary.

He is the author of a book, The Resurrected Jesus.

WITH PRESENTATIONS BY

James Long, Jr.

Active in United Methodist Men for many years, the Rev. Dr. James B. Long, Jr., brought his Methodist background to the work of The Children’s Home beginning in 1986.

Prior to becoming executive director of the Home, he served as pastor of WNCC churches, as well as president of the North Carolina and Southeastern Child Care Association. The Family Restoration Program facility in Franklin was named in his honor in 2000.

Long is retired. He serves as the assistant chaplain at the Triad United Methodist Home, Inc., in Winston-Salem.

Terry Duckworth

The Rev. Terry Duckworth currently lives in Asheville, N.C. with his wife, Jan. They have two sons, Cameron and Casey, who are students at Montreat College.

Duckworth graduated from Pfeiffer University with a major in religion and a minor in psychology. He then attended and graduated from Duke Divinity School with a Masters of Divinity degree.

Duckworth, a United Methodist elder, has served 13 United Methodist churches. He was appointed Western North Carolina Evangelist in 2000.
